Mr James C. Kelling;

Dear Sir;

It is
my pleasure to acknowledge the receipt to day of the
"Corcoran Gold Medal,"
and also the copy of the letter of the committee of award, a few days since.
The medal shall be to
be an incentive to greater
improvement in art,
and I hope this "beginning"

shall determine the end."

Pray extend to Mr Concoran
my hearty thanks for
his congratulations as well
as for his generosity.

Through which I have been enabled to win the medal. Again thanking
the trustees of the Gallery.
I am very sincerely yours.

Report to Building

Corcoran Gallery of Art

Washington D. C. Nov 26 1886.

Dear Sir.

Taking it for granted that Mr. Baile gave you my message about the actions of Mr. Matthews last night, and in view of the fact that I have learned today, that he said in the hearing of Mr. Daniels something about the use of a pistol, and that he returned to the front of the Gallery after I had left, in hopes perhaps of meeting me, I would like very much to know if the Building Com. propose to take any action, or if Mr. Matthews will be permitted per entrance to the Gallery as before.

Very truly yours
R. J. Barlow

To Mr. Baile

Corcovan Gallery of Art.

To the Committee on the Building,
Corcovan Gallery of Art.
Gentlemen.

I deem it my duty as Curator of this institution to report certain facts which have come to my knowledge, into which, in the interests of the gallery I respectfully ask your investigation.

It has for some time been suspected, that drinking and card playing have been carried on in the cellar, and a few days since the Janitor was informed by some ladies that they knew it to be so, and that Mr. Medgman and others are reported outside as indulging in these acts.

Corcoran Gallery of Art.

Washington, D. C. 188

It is well known that the cellar is frequented by young men, who on pay days, gain an entrance through the side door, much to the annoyance of the family of the janitor.

The fumes of cigar smoke through the building at hours when it is open to the public, is often very offensive, and the efforts made to prevent it have failed.

There has, for a long time been entirely too much carelessness on the part of the employees in the discharge of their duties, and an independence of action which will not brook reproof at my hands, nor have directions as to their duties

Curran Gallery of Art.

Washington, D. C. _____ 188

(as indicated by your committee, and given by me) been heeded as they should have been; and now feeling that a point has been reached where my authority as Curator fails to be of any effect. I respectfully present the matter to you, asking prompt action at your hands.

Very respectfully,
Wm. Needler
Curator

To the Committee on the Building.
Gentlemen

I would respectfully ask authority to have cases made for the storage of photographs, to be placed on the window seats of two of the windows in the Trustees room, at a cost of $30 each.

I would also ask authority to purchase eighteen chairs for use in the picture galleries.

To the Trustees of the Corcoran Gallery of Art,
Dear Sirs:-

Will you please tell me
the average expense — tuition, materials,
board, etc., — to which a young man would be liable, during a term at your School.

I have a brother who has, we think, a rather unusual gift in giving expression with his pencil,
and we are hoping to be able to give him the great advantages your School affords.

If you will kindly suggest how he may prepare himself somewhat, beforehand, any books
to read, or any special line of work to study?

Any and all information on the subject
will be very gladly received.

Respectfully, Yours,
Miss M. E. Wason.

Dear Sir,

By bookpost we beg to send you prospectus of a new most important and interesting publication of ours to which we beg leave to draw your special attention. It is a collection of 100 of the most characteristic specimens of the Brunswick Gallery which we have most carefully reproduced by our new process of Photo-Engraving in which not the least retouch is employed and which enables us to obtain the most excellent and appropriate effect as to an exact and harmonious reproduction.

The Brunswick Gallery which not having been reproduced up to now is not so universally known as it deserves to be contains such a great number of choice and important masterpieces of art that we confidently hope to have done some service to all art-students

and lovers of art by reproducing this choice collection of its treasures under the management of the director of the gallery Professor Hermann Riegl.

We therefore trust that this unique work just being completed will also be of great interest to you and hope that the enclosed prospectus giving full details may also induce you to acquire this valuable publication for your library.

Soliciting the favour of your
commands we beg to remain, dear Sir,
yours most respectfully
